About Me

In my free time, I enjoy gaming and crafting. I am not afraid to take things apart in order to fix them again. I am someone who can work well in both team and solo environments. I am described by peers and family as a good role model and self-motivated. I would describe myself as responsible, coordinated, respectful, and observant. Ordinarily, I am soft-spoken, but in team environments, I am described by past employers and peers as well-spoken and cooperative.
